Value-Added Course on COMMUNITY NUTRITION

Course Introduction

Saraswati Vidya Mandir Law College Shikarpur, Bulandshahr is introducing a non-credit 30 hours customized Community Nutrition. The certificate course aims at extending support and trained the students regarding various basic concept and knowledge about community nutrition. This course will examine the role of nutrition in promoting, maintain and improving health in the community. It investigates traditional aspects of the emerging health delivery system, as well as entrepreneurial ventures. Students will study the financial, legislative, political, sociological, and scientific aspects of public and community health nutrition.

Course Description

This course is a discussion of the principles and programs developed to improve the dietary intake and the nutritional status of individuals and groups within a community. Primary topics covered include: government and nongovernment nutrition-related programs, groups at nutritional risk, nutritional issues/concerns across the lifecycle, and an introduction to developing community-based nutrition intervention programs (needs assessment, intervention, and evaluation). Didactic lectures and guest presentations accompanied with an in-depth needs assessment and intervention project and a community service-learning component will provide students the opportunity to integrate and apply knowledge through a hands-on approach.

Objectives:

SARASWATI VIDYA MANDIR LAW COLLEGE SHIKARPUR, BULANDSHAHR (U.P.)

College Mob.: 9258321275, 8218421248

Website : www.svmlawcollege.com, E-mail Id : svmlawcollege@gmail.com

1. To develop basic understanding about concept of health from the individual and community perspective
2. Understand the common nutritional problems of the community their causes, symptoms, treatment and prevention
3. To know the schemes, program and policies of Government of India to Combat Malnutrition.

Course Outcomes:

The anticipated outcome of community nutrition programs is that participants will eat healthy food on a regular basis. Improved health is another anticipated result. Some positive outcomes are related to educational efforts. Others are due to a change in behavior. For example, a young mother may recognize the benefits of breastfeeding. A diabetic individual may enjoy ethnic cooking classes and seek additional healthy ethnic recipes. An older adult may find companionship and healthy meals at a senior lunch program. Sometimes positive outcomes are the result of changes beyond an individual's control. When schools change cafeteria offerings and increase physical education requirements, improvements in diet and exercise may occur.

Community nutrition programs may fail because of inadequate funding, program cancellation, poor participation, cultural barriers between program personnel and clients, lack of consistent access to healthy food, and lack of desire on the part of individuals to change.
